Chapter 3 THE BEGINNINGS OF GOVERNMENT IN THE UNITED STATES

The roots of American government reach deep into the past. Our system of government did not suddenly spring into being as at the wave of some political magician's wand. Nor was it pulled out of thin air by the

Our English Heritage. The French, Spanish, Dutch, Norwegian, and other Europeans settled in parts of what was to become the United States. But it was the English who came in the largest numbers. And it was the English who came to control the thirteen colonies that stretched for 1,500 miles along the Atlantic seaboard.

These early pioneers who shared the wilderness and fought off the Indians laid to rest their own immediate future in the New World. But they came here in search of greater freedom and they brought with them the Founding Fathers at Philadelphia in the summer of 1787. Before it had developed through long centuries of experience, tradition, thought, and deed. We shall now review the history of these beginnings.

dem and they brought with them the political future with them. They brought a long history of government and justice. They brought a long history of government and justice. They brought a long history of government and justice.

There is no doubt that the English had been working and developing in England for hundreds of years. There is no doubt that the English had been working and developing in England for hundreds of years. There is no doubt that the English had been working and developing in England for hundreds of years.

They brought with them, too, the twin ideas of limited government and civil liberties. That is, that government is not all powerful, that government is limited in what it may do, and, generally, that it is limited in the sense of which are to be found today in every country, through jury, sheriff, coroner, and justice of the peace, for example. And all of these were well known in England long before the first English man ever landed in America.

(1) The First Concept of Limited Government and Civil Liberties. They brought with them, too, the twin ideas of limited government and civil liberties. That is, that government is not all powerful, that government is limited in what it may do, and, generally, that it is limited in the sense that each man has certain rights that government cannot injure or take away. These great principles of freedom were proclaimed in such historic English documents as the Magna Carta in 1215, the Petition of Right in 1628, and the Bill of Rights and the Act of Toleration of 1689.

(2) The Concept of Representative Government. A third vitally important concept brought to America in English ships was that of representative government. For centuries there had been developing in England the

QUEEN MARY ELLEN

MARY ELLEN ELECTED HOMECOMING QUEEN

Mary Ellen Brown was chosen by the student body to reign over the Cardinal Day festivities on September 23. Instead of the traditional initiation, a program and pep fest was held in the afternoon. That evening Ellendale defeated Edgeley in the football game. The day was climaxed by a party in the multi-purpose room.

1960 JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM

The annual Junior-Senior Prom was held Saturday, May 21. The banquet, held in the multi-purpose room, started at 6:30. Bill Kranzler of the Class of '61 welcomed the seniors with Bob Marttila responding. After the banquet the group went to the gymnasium where they danced until midnight. The theme was "Moonglow," and music was provided by a combo organized by Malcolm Goddard.

The 1960 prom was the last for some and the first for others.

'59-'60 SENIORS PRESENT "THE UNGUIDED MISS"

In the spring of 1960, the senior class, directed by Mina Onsrud, presented "The Unguided Miss" by William Davidson. The play concerned a beautiful foreign exchange student, Lucia, who was suddenly brought into an American home filled with teenagers. Lucia lived with Madge and Clint Bryce, and their two daughters, Susan and Buzzie. George, Susan's boyfriend, was building a "jaguar" in the Bryces' garage. The play was fast moving and full of hilarious complications. When the play ended, the parents had regained their faith in the American teenager.

SENIOR SPEECH PROGRAM

PANEL DISCUSSION GROUP - STANDING: John Martinson, Rodger Vix, Brad Nelson, Dale Edwards, Instructor Mina C. Onsrud, Frank Bell, Rick Rime, Dick Lane, Ken Van Sickle, Ray Kaiser. SEATED: Kent Dugan, Jim Rodlund, John Redlin, Moderator Winston Bell, Lester Krause, John Gebhardt, Bill Kranzler.

GAVE PRACTICE IN SPEAKING

ONE-ACT PLAY CAST: Judy Nicholson, Verna Flynn, student-director Sandy Neumann, Diann Gehring, Geraldine Brandenburger, Darlene Nishek, Donna Mae Miller, Kay Collett, Jackie Maier.

RECITATION GROUP: Bonnie Van Dyke, Carole Bobzien, Mary Ellen Brown, Carolyn Haugen, Sandra Volz, Donna Rae Thompson.

JUNIOR CLASS PRESENTS "SPRING NIGHT"

The junior class presented their annual play, "Spring Night," a comedy in three acts by Anne Coulter Martens, on Tuesday evening, November 22, in the high school auditorium.

The plot revolved around Nancy Hollister, played by Joyce Ginsbach, and Stephen Karaladis, played by Gordon Morehead. Both are high school students. Nancy is the most popular girl in school and is elected prom queen. Stephen does janitor work to pay his way and spends his spare time playing the piano. He has hopes of becoming a concert artist.

Bruce, the most popular boy in school, dates Nancy, but now she is interested in Stephen. The girls in school ridicule Stephen because he doesn't have good clothes and must do janitor work. In the end Stephen won Nancy, in spite of the taunts of their classmates.
